

SCCTM News Sept 29, 2019

SC Metric Week October 6-12, 2019

The Governor has proclaimed October 6 – 12, 2019 South Carolina Metric Week

Celebrating Metric Week in South Carolina 2019 (October 6-12) is a very important opportunity for K-12 students. An announcement at each school in your district and encouragement of metric system activities during and after Metric Week would be an excellent idea. (Some easy-to-use ideas on celebrating Metric Week are available online at: www.artsandsciences.sc.edu/cse (Click on Programs then Metric) or <http://scacademysci.org> (click on South Carolina Academy of Science Founded 1924) then click on Metric, top of page. We want you to know the opportunities offered to Teachers and Students by the National Institute of Science & Technology (NIST) Metric Program. <https://www.nist.gov/metric>. Also, USMA Site usma.org is a good site for information.

Several documents concerning this week can be found on our website via this link:

The documents are:

- A letter to district leaders and Math/Science Coordinators from Don Jordan at the Center for Science Education at the University of South Carolina
- The Governor's proclamation
- A list of resources from the National Institute of Science and Technology
- A list of year-round metric activities

SCCTM Newsletter

Find the President's Message, conference information, and more in the September 2019 Newsletter via this link: SCCTM NEWS.pdf, or on the SCCTM webpage: <http://www.scctm.org>.

Conference News

2019 SCCTM Fall Conference November 14 - 15, 2019
Greenville Convention Center in Greenville, South Carolina

Register on our website <http://www.scctm.org>

At the upcoming 2019 SCCTM Conference you're going to be BUILDING YOUR MATH SUPERPOWER: TAKING ACTION. Be on the lookout soon for the Preliminary Conference Session Schedule to be available on our website: scctm.org, or follow this link.

SCCTM is in need of volunteers willing to share their time and talents in order to help the

